At a regular meeting of the National Council, held at the residence of D. C. D. on the 1st of June, 1855.

The following principles of the Order were adopted:

I. The acknowledgment of that Almighty

God, who is the Father of all, who created the human race, and who is the author of all our mercies, and who is the source of all our strength, and who is the author of all our glory, and who is the source of all our happiness, and who is the author of all our salvation, and who is the source of all our life, and who is the author of all our hope, and who is the source of all our love, and who is the author of all our faith, and who is the source of all our charity, and who is the author of all our peace, and who is the source of all our joy, and who is the author of all our comfort, and who is the source of all our consolation, and who is the author of all our redemption, and who is the source of all our inheritance, and who is the author of all our kingdom, and who is the source of all our glory, and who is the author of all our honor, and who is the source of all our praise, and who is the author of all our thanksgiving, and who is the source of all our worship, and who is the author of all our devotion, and who is the source of all our piety, and who is the author of all our holiness, and who is the source of all our righteousness, and who is the author of all our sanctification, and who is the source of all our glorification, and who is the author of all our eternal life, and who is the source of all our eternal happiness, and who is the author of all our eternal glory, and who is the source of all our eternal life, and who is the author of all our eternal happiness, and who is the source of all our eternal glory, and who is the author

of all our eternal happiness, and who is the source

of all our eternal happiness, and who is the source

ence or direction of a denominational or partisan character.

And, inasmuch as Christianity by the decisions of nearly all the States, by the decisions of the most eminent judicial authorities, and by the consent of the people of America, is considered an element of our political system; and as the Holy Bible, at once the source of Christianity, and the depository and fountain of all civil and religious freedom, we oppose every attempt to exclude it from the schools thus established in the States.

XII. The American party, having risen up on the ruins, and in despite of the opposition of the Whig and Democratic parties, cannot be held in any manner responsible for the errors and excesses of the Whig and Democratic parties.

And regarding it as the highest duty of every citizen to support the American party, we opinion upon a subject so important, in which the principles of the American party are so clearly and unequivocally defined, it is deemed as the sense of the National Council, that Congress possess no power, under the Constitution to legislate upon the subject of slavery in the States where it does or may exist, and to exclude any State from admission into the Union, because its Constitution does not recognize the institution as part of the system; and expressly pretermittin any expression of opinion upon the power of Congress to establish or prohibit slavery in any Territory, or in any case of this National Council that Congress ought not to legislate on the subject of slavery in the Territories of the United States, and that any interference with the Constitution as it exists in the District of Columbia, or in any Territory, which would be a violation of the spirit of the Constitution, and of the principles of the American party, is hereby declared to be unconstitutional and void.
